

YOUTH CENTER DEDICATION SUNDAY

A Mass, in St. Thomas, at 12:00 noon, will begin the dedication ceremonies for the new St. Thomas CYO Youth Center, in the basement of Villanova Hall.

The Mass will be followed by a luncheon for guests and workers. A limited number of tickets are available for the general public.

Following the luncheon, at 2 pm Dedication ceremonies will take place in the Center, and there will be an Open House until 6 pm. All Wilmington residents and their friends are invited.

The new center was constructed by a small but dedicated group of workers in St. Thomas parish, and with the support of many other people, both in and out of the parish.

The Center will be under the direction of a Board of Directors made up of four adults and four CYO officers. There will also be three other committees made up of adults and young people, who will supervise and direct: Rules and Enforcement; Building and Maintenance; and Chaperones.

The Rules and Enforcement Committee has already worked out a series of rules for the conduct of those using the Center. They are: Smoking only where ashtrays are provided; No loud offensive language; Reasonable noise level in the parking lot and on the grounds; Respect for all property both outside and inside; Report any damage done; Sign out if leaving more than 15 minutes before closing time; No drinking at any time;

School clothes; and Respect and Consideration for Everyone.

For the time being the Center is to be open on Friday and Saturday evenings from 8 pm to 11 pm and on Sunday afternoons from 2 pm to 6 pm. Admission will be by membership card only. Members will be allowed to bring guests from out of town, and will be responsible for those guests.

Membership is being limited, for the time being, to 600 High School students. Since the Center is on St. Thomas Parish property and funds were solicited only from the parishioners, membership will be allotted in the following priority:

1. Members of St. Thomas CYO will automatically be members of the Center. Any High School student can join the CYO upon completion of 2 hours of work at the Center and payment of $2 dues for the year.

2. High School students in the Parish, but not in the CYO will be known as 'Associate Members'.

3. Any other High School students not in the CYO nor in the Parish are also eligible to become 'Associate Members' as long as there is space, on a first come first served basis.

'Associated Members' will pay $3 due for this year. For both Members and Associate Members there will be a 10 cent admission fee in order to make the Center self-sufficient.

The Center is to be run on a

Trailer May Cost Woman $20 a Day

A Nichols Street woman has been given until October 20th to remove a trailer from her property. Failure to do so, she has been warned by Justice Alfred A Sartorelli of the Woburn District Court, may cost her $20 a day, in fines.

JOHN DOYLE LOWELL
TELEPHONE MANAGER

John F Doyle of 10 Kirby Drive Canton, former New England Telephone Company special accounts office manager in Boston has been promoted to business office manager in Lowell.

A native of Providence Rhode Island and graduate of Providence College, he has been with New England Telephone for 16 years. He has worked in the sales and commercial departments in Boston, Providence, and New Hampshire.

In 1944 and 1945 he served with the Army, in Germany. His wife is the former Jane Beagan of Providence, and they have six children

Judge Sartorelli, on September 21st, handed down a decision sustaining the town's Zoning By-Law, which said that the trailer, located at 111 Nichols Street was in violation of the Zoning By-Law. The decision marked the end of eleven months of work by the town's Building Inspector, Roy McClanahan.

An earlier hearing had resulted in a ruling that the owner of the land had until July 31, 1967 to remove the trailer. When the trailer was not removed McClanahan and the Town Counsel, Alan Altman, went to court again, and McClanahan signed a complaint against Mrs Ruth Gilbert, the owner of the property. The case was heard on Sept. 21st with Altman representing the town.

Building Inspector McClanahan said this week that he is preparing to take action against another trailer which is, he says, in violation of the town's Zoning By-Law.

THE FIRST BOOSTER BUTTON: Was sold last weekend to Town Manager Sterling Morris by Miss Darlene Bryn. They'll be on sale all over town, this weekend. Funds support high school athletic activities and provide scholarships for athletes.

NEW FIRM: Leslie Morash, president of the Service Warehouse Inc. of South Boston, and his mother, Mrs Sadie B Morash Schlagenhauf, who headed the firm for fourteen years, look over the preliminary ground clearing for their new warehouse, to be constructed off Ballardvale Street, on the Wilmington Andover line.

The 100,000 square foot building is not yet assured of a water supply, but the Lowell Gas Co. yesterday afternoon was reported to be ready to put a gas main in to Ballardvale Street for the new firm.

HOW ABOUT A TRAFFIC CIRCLE?

This paper does not claim to be a qualified engineer, but a more radical solution than that offered by the Town Manager and Town Engineer seems to be the answer for the traffic congestion, present and coming, at the intersection of Lowell and Woburn Streets.

The two men have been talking with Uncle Avco and the Jackson Brothers, and both of those firms have volunteered to donate land worth thousands of dollars to the town, to widen Lowell Street and Woburn Street. The firms should be commended for their generous attitude.

The Town Engineer had elaborate charts, showing traffic flow and kindred subjects, for the Selectmen's inspection, Monday night, but he didn't seem to impress that board very much. His efforts might have died aborning if the chairman hadn't done some urging, to get a grudging assent from the other members.

The Town Engineer's proposal will certainly be better than the present situation, where at 5pm long lines of cars are waiting for the traffic light to change. But it isn't enough. And when Smithcraft and other firms locate in the South Industrial Park in the next year or so, the situation is going to get worse.

The radical solution - and really the most simple, is a traffic circle.

That means the taking of land, privately owned land. This is something that the Selectmen are always loathe to do. Land taking to those people is like picking poison ivy.

A traffic circle would probably have a diameter of 160 to 170 feet, much larger than Lowell Street is wide. Lowell Street happens to be sixty feet wide. It would mean the taking of land from Uncle Avco, and from the other side top, say a combined measurement of 100 feet.

Suppose seventy feet of Avco land were to be used, and thirty feet of the land of the late Bobby Barrows. The Avco land is that green field with a few trees, west of Woburn Street.

A traffic circle could be constructed which would not only keep all traffic flowing on Woburn and Lowell Streets, but which would let Uncle's employees arrive at work, and leave work, with a minimum of pain and practically no delay.

If such a circle were to be installed the Engineers for Uncle would immediately start to figure out ways to improve the traffic internally, in that place, too. And they could do it, easily.

Everyone would benefit except the firms that make traffic lights. For this paper's money a traffic circle is the only real answer to a problem that is certain to grow in size, and quickly. And the time to act is before more buildings have been erected in the area - before it is too late.

MARY DALY
DIED YESTERDAY

Mary C Daly of 319 Andover Street died yesterday morning, after a long illness. She was 84 years old.

Mrs Daly and her husband, the late Tom Daly, came to Wilmington in 1912 and bought the former Stanley Farm, 160 acres of rolling fields and rocky uplands, for taxes. This farm they operated for nearly 50 years, as the Knollwood Dairy, selling eggs and milk to the people of Wilmington and nearby towns. In the latter part Mrs Daly also operated a rest home for older people.

Unassuming and hard working, they were a highly respected couple. After her husband's death Mrs Daly sold the dairy business to Maynard C Eaton, and had been in virtual retirement since then.

The funeral is to be held from the W S Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street, on Saturday morning at 9:15 am., with a High Mass of Requiem at St. Thomas Church at 10 am. Interment will follow in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Calling hours at the Cavanaugh Funeral Home will be on Friday, from 2 to 4 pm and from 7 to 9 pm.

RUTH BUXTON DIED

Selectmen's Meeting

Town Manager Sterling Morris and Town Engineer Arthur Harding want to improve the traffic situation at the corner of Lowell and Woburn Streets.

Plans were shown to the Board of Selectmen on Monday, in which Avco would give a long strip of land along Lowell Street, and a shorter one along Woburn Street, while at the same time the Jackson Brothers would similarly give land across the street, at the site of the former Gowing-Swain house.

The Selectmen, however, were not 100% enthusiastic.

Morris said he wanted the Board of Selectmen to 'lay-out' the new street plans, a function to be performed only by the Selectmen. The board, collectively demurred. Finally, on motion of George Boylen, with Mrs. Drew seconding, the board voted for a go-ahead, with Selectman Paul Niles apparently not voting.

Harding had several maps with him, one to show the land that would be given, and another to show the resultant traffic lanes, and traffic flow, if the streets were widened.

Also to be taken would be a small bit of the land at Lucci's Market, and a similar small piece from the Barrows property, on the fourth corner.

Harding told the Selectmen that if this had been done by the County, which is possible, the County would then go ahead with a 'taking' and the town would have to pay for the land. He estimated that the land which Avco would give to the town would be worth about $12,000, based on the valuation of Avco land at $18,500 an acre. The land which the Jackson Brothers would give would be worth about $5000, the Town Engineer said.

Asked about the cost of constructing the new part of the two streets Harding gave an estimate of $25,000 to $30,000.

Boylen asked about doing the work under the provisions of the Chapter 90 Road Construction program, and Morris said that the program was committed for the next couple of years.

Morris, in making the presentation, told the Selectmen that it was necessary to make a start soon, as the traffic problems would be increasing with the new industries, such as Smithcraft, which are now locating in the south industrial Park.

During the discussion Niles was concerned with methods of financing construction, and the TM was instructed to look into the means of financing.

Proposed sale of land

The Selectmen considered the proposed sale of town owned land to abutting owners, with members of the Planning Board and the Town Counsel called in for consultation.

Three sites were considered. There might be more on the Selectmen's list, but they were not discussed, if there are any.

A Mr. Hurwitz wants to buy a lot of land at the end of Broad Street. He was turned down since it appeared that Mr. Hurwitz was no longer an 'abutting owner'.

Fred Jackson appeared before the board to try to purchase three lots of land on Temple Street. The Planning Board was called into consultation on this, and they reported to the Selectmen that they felt the town should retain the three lots, for future playground. The town already owns two larger lots, beside the three, and a playground of about 300 feet by 350 feet could be made.

Jackson told the Selectmen that the Jackson Brothers were the 'owners of record' of Temple St., a paper street abutting the land. The offer to purchase, he felt, was rightfully theirs.

Town Counsel Alan I. Altman defined an abutter, at the request of Mr. Gillis. Gillis told the Selectmen that the intent and purpose of the article voted by the town was to see that adjacent land owners could buy town land, for the purpose of enlarging their own house lots.

Altman, however, ruled otherwise. He ruled that an abutter was a land owner contiguous to the parcel in question. Gillis groaned.

Boylen then moved to disapprove the sale of the land, saying that the Planning Board proposal to make a playground there made sense. The vote was three to nothing, with Mrs. Drew abstaining (Mr. Black was absent).

Mr. Morris had a meeting with the Recreation Commission this week. The members are George Dyas, the newly elected chairman, Carl Backman, Betty Dworkle, Mabel Bliss, Rico Catalano, and Director Larry Cushing. Larry will make an outline of the existing recreation program to be presented to the next meeting to the Board.

They asked for an appropriation for lights for a 250 x 250 area at the Town Park for a ball field and skating rink in the wintertime. The cost of clearing Silver Lake at the beach and the clearing of the parking area and installation of lights for skating in the wintertime Miceli said that he would rather see more lighting in the school areas first, so that they could be used more. Mr. Boylen suggested that we go back to the use of the fire pumper to flood the lake after snow as was done in the past. Mr. Niles said that he would like to see a program for teenagers, outside the athletics, i.e. Drama Clubs, etc. Miceli asked if one meeting a month would be enough for the commission since the time for the budget was approaching.

Stan Webber appeared and he and the Board went into a short executive session.

After ten minutes, Miceli again called the meeting to order and read a memo from the Town Counsel saying that the land-taking from the Grange had been agreed on. Also the deed to the Library property is on record in land court and title is being transferred from the Catholic Church to the Town.

Niles questioned the signs by the DPW for traffic. He was told that the ones on Middlesex Avenue were coming down and the office would be notified as to what was going where for signs.

Niles questioned the lights that were at the North Wilmington Rr crossing and the way they were working. The TM will notify the B&M. He also commented on the stones and gravel at the Federal Street and Middlesex intersection. These were attributed to the overloading of gravel trucks, but it is a bad accident corner. When will the work be completed on the Whitfield School Pedway. The TM will check these things.

Morris said that the total taxes assessed on Real Estate for the year of 1967 come to $3,226,458.90 and that the breakdown was as follows: Industry, 24.8%; general business, 6.7%; residential, 68.5%. The ability to produce to the percentages this year was directly attributed to the new machine. 5100 tax bills are out today and the remainder will be put out tomorrow.

Mrs. Madelyn McKie, a member of the Planning Board, appeared to make an inquiry as an individual on the sidewalk program. The TM said that he was not prepared to answer, but that Burlington Ave. and Grove Ave would be completed this year, because they had not used last year's money. Niles pointed out that this was why the appropriation had not been as much this year. Niles further suggested the TM check the list that had been previously prepared by a committee that surveyed the sidewalk necessities for the critical list. The TM agreed to do this.

Mr. Miceli asked Mrs. McKie if 701 was approved. Gillis said that in September we were no. 6 statewide, and that he was keeping a close eye on it. A license was granted to the North Shore Horseman's Association for an Andover Street Exhibit on October 8.

Miceli stated that the Board will meet at Rolling Green for luncheon with the Andover Board of Selectmen on Thursday for discussion of water to the North Wilmington area.

Niles inquired as to the Whitman and Howard report on the water. The TM said that the Barrows Station would provide relief for the No. Wilmington area. The TM had a status report: 7 stations, 5 being used, 2 in reserve. Town Park and Barrows Stations. The consumption this year was the same, 3,000,000 gallons. Samples were taken twice a month at the stations and the superintendent's house, as per regulations with the Department of Public Health. The Barrows Station in reserve showed a very low bacteria count in the summer. Flow tests will be taken in the fall before the station is put into operation.

Tom Marden of Silver Lake Ave. appeared before the Selectmen to ask how the Jackson Brothers could buy land, when he had restrictions imposed on the land he wanted to buy. Niles pointed out to Marden that the board had just refused to sell to Jackson.

The board approved selling lots of land to John MacDonald and to Mrs. Thomas Dow, both on Cunningham Street, and also the sale of a lot to Mr. Severens, on Cypress Street. The sale must be advertised for two weeks, before it can take effect.

Other business

Sale of Booster Buttons was approved and it was voted to approve the MBTA appointment of Lee J. Cusack.

The Town Counsel was present to give his version of the transactions with The Reading Municipal Light Company.

He said that the last meeting with the Town Counsels of North Reading and Lynnfield was held on last October and at that time they had decided to transfer the authority to the Boards of Selectmen and that was the last he had heard of it.

Mr. Niles asked that Mrs. O'Rourke check the records. Mr. Miceli gave the portfolio to Boylen so that he could check it.

Altman said that they should pursue it with the other towns, that one alone could do nothing, but all together could. Niles suggested that it be put on the agenda for next week after Boylen had the opportunity to follow it through.

Altman further stated that the municipalities had the right to negotiate, but that this had proved to be a fallacy, that the light department had fixed them and told the town and the DPU had rubber stamped the rates. On inquiry on how it could be licked, the Town Counsel said by litigation that it could be proved the rates were arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious.

Jurors were drawn for Criminal Court in Cambridge on October 23. Richard J. Palmer, 244 Middlesex Avenue and Ernest L. Meglund at 1 Gunderson Road, For Cambridge on Nov. 6, Lillian T. The Town Manager came in with a request for the Finance Committee to transfer $5000 to the TM's account for a wage and salary classification Plan under the selectmen and manager. This has not been done since 1955. The budget shows that 85% of the budget is

Kathryn Gail Butler is Bride

Miss Kathryn Gail Butler, daughter of Mr and Mrs Malcolm S Butler of 13 West Street became the bride of Mr Glenn Richard Carlson, son of Mr and Mrs C. Richard Carlson of Hamden, Conn. In a recent marriage at the Wilmington Methodist Church.

The Church was decorated with white gladioli and white mums for the afternoon ceremony which was performed by the Reverend Willis P. Miller. Miss Linda Kyle was the organist, with solos, Love Devine and the Lord's Prayer by Mr William Merrill.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, a modified cage with full train and half sleeves was of organza material with appliqued flowers concentrated at the hemline and bottom of the sleeves and scattered over the dress and train. She wore a shoulder length veil with flowered headpiece decorated with drop pearls and sequins. She carried her Rainbow Bible covered with a white orchid and side cascade of stephanotis and tiny corsages of white flowers.

Miss Dawne Lee Burns of Wilmington was her Maid of Honor, Miss Stephanie Lenora Young of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Miss Sharon Lee Justice of Wilmington, Massachusetts were the bridesmaids. All three were dressed in identical gowns of light turquoise chiffon in the empire style with short pleated trains. Miss Burs' headpiece was covered with white daisies and turquoise veiling. The bridesmaids' headpieces consisted of turquoise daisies and veiling. All carried old fashioned bouquets of yellow roses, Marguerites and mums with cascading streamers.

Miss Leslie Gaye Carlson, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a long bouffant gown of white lace over pink with a headpiece of pink bow and veiling, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses, mums and Marguerites.

Mr John Williams of West Hartford, Connecticut was the best man. The ushers were Mr Kenneth Bruce Butler of Wilmington, brother of the bride, and Mr Alan Louis Ansello of Boston, Massachusetts.

The altar kneeling bench was covered with white satin which was first used at the wedding of Mr and Mrs William P Dayton of Wilmington.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall at the Church. Miss Martha Lindley Brame of Hartsdale, New York was in charge of the guest book.

For her going away outfit, the bride selected a matching ensemble of bone colored ribbed moire with contrasting accessories. The couple spent their honeymoon at Hyannis on Cape Cod.

Both Mr and Mrs Carlson are 1967 graduates of Bates College in Lewiston, Maine. Mrs Carlson graduated with honors in History and Mr Carlson with honors in Chemistry. They are residing at Spartan Village, East Lansing, Michigan.

Mr Carlson is continuing his studies in Chemistry and will be a teaching assistant in the Chemistry Department at Michigan State University. Mrs Carlson is employed in the Library in the University.

The excavation is taking place on the Murphy Farm for the new Service Warehouse adjacent to the railroad tracks. But, meanwhile we had fun with Joannie Camponeski who moved into the house from Wakefield. She gave us a ride around the terrain in the pony cart. The Pony is fenced in the yard beside the barn. Also in the collection of family, besides a husband, and two youngsters, Joannie has a pet squirrel who rides on your shoulder. (They found him when he was a baby at the bottom of the tree where the family nest was, and have had him for two years.) Also, there are ten or eleven puppies that are a couple of weeks old. It's great fun visiting up there these days and Joan says that she rides her pony cart to market in Ballardvale almost every day to give the pony his exercise. (Hear that the Cronin gravel truck drivers are still confused as to who that cute chick with the pony cart is and where she's going every morning. Now you know, fellas.)

The Kiwanians had our own Chief of Police Paul Lynch to give an interesting talk on the operation of Law and Order to them this

The Nominating Committee will present the slate of officers on Oct. 2, 1967. Election will be held Oct. 16. Officers will be installed on Jan. 1.

In regard to operation Law and Order, the Int. Board of Trustees met in Chicago and discussed recent outbreaks of serious civil disorders in the U.S. and are calling on every club and every Kiwanian to become involved. In this operation, what effective roles can the business and professional men play in assuring and preserving law and order in this community? The Chief had some helpful suggestions for that.

cretary of Atty Alan Altman and Elaine Burpee of Grove Avenue have become the 'bicycle twins'.

They go together to games, etc., and one Wilmington cop, seeing the two girls approaching on bicycles, just stopped traffic, to let them by. He must have been impressed!

The Cub Pack 58 at St. Dorothy's Church is still in need of Den Mothers. Please come to the meeting on Saturday at 7 pm at the Church.

Listen gals - the Town Crier office has a new door knob.

That's not news? You bet it is! As you probably know, the Town Crier is published in the old North Wilmington railroad depot.

The front door is a heavy one. It is about two inches thick, and has a heavy plate glass window. When the Boston & Maine rebuilt that railroad station, after the fire in 1912, they put in the best of materials, and the boss would rather lose his right arm than that door.

But the door knob hasn't been working properly now for some months. Something wrong with the spindle, which is the piece of steel that connects the two door knobs, and you had to turn the knob firmly to the right, to get that door open. The boss called it the 'anti-communist'.

We who work in the office there pleaded with the boss to get a new door - but he wouldn't.

Instead, he was going to get a carpenter to replace that doorknob. But to get a carpenter isn't always easy.

But Louie Theriault showed up Monday, and put in a new doorknob. Its nice and shiny, and it works. Now the Town Crier customers don't have to be anti-communist. They can be just the opposite, if they want, and turn that door knob to the left.

You should drop up and admire it. Its not only a thing of beauty, but it works! And that's news!

Remember folks, it's almost the last call on the Grant's ad with the fifty dollars off, because Nancy sent you. Take advantage of now to buy your TV, and remember to tell them that this gal was the one that urged you.

After our note last week on the whereabouts of Dave Jackson, his mother called and told us that he was now in Vietnam. Quite an interesting story goes with Dave's sojourn. Dave is still a Canadian citizen serving in our armed services. After his thirty day leave, he went back to his base in California awaiting reassignment in the States, since he was told he couldn't go overseas because he wasn't a US Citizen. So, guess what in true army fashion, his folks got a letter last Saturday saying that he was in Vietnam with a transportation company driving a five-thousand gallon fuel truck. We still don't know whether or not they made him an overnight citizen or whether he got shipped anyway. His new address is Pfc David Jackson US 51616924, 359th Transportation Company, APO San Francisco, Cal 96294. Sure would like to know out of curiosity whether or not the FBI is still investigating him while he's working for our side in Vietnam.

School Survey Report

Report of the Survey Committee

Evaluation of Education in Wilmington or in any community must be primarily in terms of the extent to which it meets the educational needs of all of the youth of the community the school serves. In this survey careful consideration has been given to the school facilities of Wilmington. The survey was primarily concerned with the effects that the facilities had on the program of studies as well as the impact of population growth on the facilities.

For the past decade the Wilmington Public Schools have been experiencing a rapid increase of student population. Grade organizational patterns have, for the most part, been restricted to the available classroom units. However, the School Committee has recently adopted the 5-3-4 organization pattern and has set a course of action to implement this position. Chart A indicated the grade organization of the elementary, intermediate, and high schools as well as the dates of construction. It is evident that the new elementary buildings (since 1954) are following the grade organization adopted by the School Committee, whereas the pre-1939 elementary schools are, for the most part, utilized to satisfy 'overflow' enrollments throughout the district. It is most unfortunate that a replacement program was not instituted when new elementary schools were built. It is equally difficult to understand why this was not considered when one studies the community population figures as shown in Chart B.

additional classrooms. To provide for the enrollment increases and subsequent classroom needs at all grade levels, as well as the replacement of older elementary schools, it is imperative that immediate steps be taken to formulate a longrange program.

ministration, and staff have fulfilled these responsibilities by identifying education needs and seeking their solutions. In this effort the community has accepted and supported the school system's educational program.

To assist the Wilmington authorities in the formulation of such a plan, the survey committee has prepared for their consideration an outline of building construction. However, it should be noted that this is a flexible guide and certain phases could be advanced (i.e. construction of elementary schools and a high school). The continued construction of new dwellings or expanded development on a large scale could very easily and quickly invalidate these suggestions. In essence the survey committee is recommending (a) additions to the Woburn Street and Wildwood Street Schools, (b) two twenty-four room elementary schools and (c) a new 1,600 pupil high school (expandable to 2,000 plus). It is further suggested that the West, Walker, Center, Whitefield and Rogers Schools be replaced, and the Buzzell School be used as a Curriculum Center for the Professional Staff

The development of a School Committee booklet on policies and regulations for the school district, the preparation of a Staff Handbook, the formation of the 'Executive Committee,' the preparation of a well documented report by the Superintendent's office and the staff outlining the educational needs of the community, and the appointment of a full-time coordinator of State and Federal programs are to be commanded. The completion of several new schools in recent years and the continuous planning for additional facilities present further evidence of the positive educational climate in the community.

Since the community is experiencing steady growth, continued efforts should be made to increase supervisory and instructional services commensurate with this growth. A curriculum director to consolidate and coordinate the educational programs for grades one through twelve, a full time high school vice principal, full-time librarians at the North and West Intermediate Schools, as well as other positions that have been recommended throughout the report, will necessitate a re-examination and a restructuring of the present line-staff schema.

For the many courtesies extended to them, the members of the survey committee wish to thank the School Committee, the staff, and the administration for their wonderful cooperation and assistance during this visitation. Finally, should the Wilmington authorities request additional study of the program of study, or in any other areas, as well as to have the survey team discuss its findings, the Department's supervisory staff stand ready to assist. Individual reports of the survey committee are included herewith.

Respectfully submitted
Lawrence A. Oylan, Chairman -
Senior Supervisor of Secondary Education.

From 1940 to 1965, the town of Wilmington had a population increase of 7,616 or 164%, from 1950-65 an increase of 8,222 or 116%, and from 1960 to 1965 an increase of 2,786 or 22%. Furthermore, an analysis of the number of units in Chart C - New Dwelling Units - reveals further evidence of this growth.

In terms of present enrollment figures as they relate to pupil enrollment, the Wilmington Schools will be encountering serious classroom shortages. Needless to say, this situation will become more critical with each entering class. Further, the introduction of Kindergarten as a formal part of the grade organization will necessitate of the District. Further, the Swain School could be utilized by (a) undertaking interior modification and (b) building an addition to this facility.

What does educational planning mean for the future of Wilmington young people? To quote Superintendent Harold Shea's excellent report in the 1966 Town Report it means:

1. Kindergartens will be in operation, 2. Modern schools will be needed, 3. Longer school day, 4. Small classes, 5. Better prepared teachers, 6. More stimulating materials, and a host of many other innovative practices which will enable the Wilmington young people to take their places in the highly competitive future. Therefore, plans must be made for the future and not for today.

The administration and staff schema as given to the survey committee indicates the organizational framework of the Wilmington School system's professional and non-professional staff. Inherent within this organizational pattern is the responsibility to provide leadership, supervision, and instruction. It is evident that the Wilmington School Committee, adin wages, said the TM, and this survey is needed to protect the tax dollars. It would include a job description and evaluation and will be done by professional management consultants. After much discussion about the money and where it was to come from, since the Finance Committee had only transferred $10000 instead of $20000 to the Welfare Account, the board decided this vote should be up to the Town Meeting and deferred the action until then.

Mr. Casey appeared for the NET&T for the hearings to extend the conduit on High Street from the pole on 62, so that it could be removed, and for permission to relocate one on Harvard Avenue for a proposed driveway and for a large extension to a conduit on Middlesex and Mystic Avenue to service to AVCO for future service to AVCO and other plants in that area. Several abutments appeared for this one, and Mr. Casey explained what the intentions were. Niles inquired as to the Bond and Mr. Casey said they had one on file with every municipality in the state. Mr. Niles said that was fine, but did the same conditions apply for private land that did for existing town land. Mr. Casey said all work had to be done on town land and the terrain would be left in just the same manner.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

In this week's issue of the Town Crier is part of a report by a group from the Massachusetts Department of Education, relative to the public schools of Wilmington.

It is a good thing, generally speaking, to have an outside organization examine any branch of the Town government. Good can come from the report. Indeed, it would seem that the Wilmington schools already had a part of that report, when the emphasis was changed in the last town meeting vote on new school buildings.

But, while the state may criticize, so may the taxpayers.

For the past 15 years Wilmington has supported new school construction, to the limit of its ability and in excess of other communities. New schools have been built, and are being built. Only rarely has there been double sessions, and then for a short period of time.

The State Department of Education, if it is represented by the group that examined the Wilmington schools, could most certainly do some thinking about the cost of school construction. It seems to have failed to do this.

Every town and city in the Commonwealth has been paying architects, over and over again, to design and redesign classrooms and schools. The results have always been better and more expensive buildings, quite often a monument to the particular architect involved. But, in the last analysis, this is just another burden on the taxpayer.

Wilmington once tried to solve this problem by having standard plans for schools. The effort died because of political hatchwork, and further because the state changed specifications of new schools.

Education is essentially a communication between human beings. High priced, designed and redesigned buildings add little to the educational background, except in a few instances. Good pay for teachers is more important.

If the State Department of Education really wants to be of value, let it do some thinking about the cost of school construction.

Youth Concerts in Symphony Hall

Mrs Ernest Wallent and Mrs Ella are co-chairmen of a special committee for 'Youth Concerts' at Symphony Hall.

The concerts are to take place on Saturdays, with the available dates on November 11th., January 20th., and March 16th. Letters are to be distributed this week to the parents of Wilmington school pupils, grades 5 to 8.

The purpose of the letters is to inform them of the opportunity for pupils to attend the 1967-68 series of Youth Concerts.

Buses leaving Wilmington at 10 am will be chaperoned by adults, and at the concert. All children planning to attend must have their applications submitted by Oct. 4th. For further information contact the town co-chairmen at 658-8763 or 658-4050.

A double ring ceremony united Miss Joan Louise Butt, daughter of Mr and Mrs William F. Butt of 6 West Street, and David Reed Tuxbury, son of Mr and Mrs Leslie C. Tuxbury of Amesbury, in marriage on August 19th.

The wedding was in the Wilmington Methodist Church, and the couple were united in marriage by the Rev. Willis Miller. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs Alanson Platt of North Wilmington was the soloist, accompanied by Linde Kyle on the organ.

The bride's wedding gown was of Ivory Peau De Sole, trimmed with Alencon lace, and with a long train. Her pillbox headpiece was also trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls, and her veil was of elbow length. She carried a white Rainbow Bible, covered with glammillias and stephanotis.

Mrs Paul Ryan of Andover, a friend of the bride, was her Matron of Honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs Joanne Shelley of Andover, friend of the bride, Mrs Nicholas Del Ninno of Lowell, a friend of the bride, Mrs David Emerson of Kingston, a sister of the groom, Miss Carolyn Dorsey of Fairfield NH, a friend of the bride, and Mrs Paul Butt of Wilmington, a sister in law of the bride.

They were gowned in pale sea mist chiffon, with lace bodices and matching pill box hats. The Matron of Honor carried a bouquet of pale yellow glammillias, and the bridesmaids had bouquets of pale yellow carnations with glammillia centers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Thomson Club, in North Reading, Miss Donna Kirby of Wilmington, a cousin of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

For her gown, in the reception line the bride's mother chose a pale green dress suit of silk, with a flowered hat, and wore a pink glammillia corsage with pink tea roses.

The groom's mother was in a

Guests at the wedding came from California, Michigan, New York, and Toronto and Montreal, in Canada. There were 230 guests.

For her goingaway ensemble the bride chose a brown costume with beige accessories, and the wedding trip was to Maine.

The couple are now at home in Andover. The new Mrs Tuxbury is a graduate of Wilmington High School and the Chandler School for Women, in Boston. She is a Past Worthy Advisor of the Wilmington chapter of the Order of Rainbow, and has been employed at the Boston Lying-In Hospital.

Cholesterol has been implicated in heart disease.

Up to now, though, there have been several schools of thought on the matter. Some researchers take a conservative 'lets wait and see' approach.

While cholesterol alone won't necessarily cause coronary attack, in combination with other factors, it appears to be the 'crowning blow'.

Thus - until some drug is found that will bolster this mysterious hormone in its job of clearing fats from the blood - most physicians are now advising their coronary-prone patients to keep away from eggs, butter, milk, and similar animal fats.

... and when that drug is discovered, be certain that Silver Lake Pharmacy will be among the first to have it in stock. Our pharmacy makes it a point to keep up to date with all the latest innovations in medicine. Free prescription delivery...

Wilmington 36 Andover 6

With its starting quarterback, halfback, and coach ailing, defending champion Andover High was still heavily favored to whip Coach Bellissimo's Wildcats, last Saturday.

Andover sent a rangy, beefy line and some capable reserve backs at the locals Saturday afternoon and were abruptly taught a lesson in gridirony, coming out on the short end of a 34-6 verdict.

Freshman Mike Esposito introduced himself by kicking off to Andover and then proceeded to make the visitors as unwelcome as gnats by personally tallying sixteen points.

WHS drew first blood following an opening period punt by Andover. Quarterback Billy Walls, cool and accurate all afternoon, hit Danny O'Connell with a 27 yard swing pass to the Andover one. On the next play another frosh, Dick Gillis, plunged into the end zone, Esposito left-footed the conversion through the uprights.

The Wildcats rugged defense led by Ed and Jack Gillis got the ball right back, recovering a fumble deep in Andover territory. Walls then clicked again with O'Connell for a 17 yard score. The extra point attempt was blocked and the quarter ended at 13-0.

Andover punted for the third time early in the second period with O'Connell lugging it back to his own 49. Dick Gillis rambled 17 yards on a draw, Hank Devlin bulled for ten more and Walls lofted a 24 yarder to Esposito, who made a nifty grab in a crowd for the score. Esposito converted, 20-0.

Under terrific pressure Andover's passer overshot his huge ends with an aerial, which Jerry Land picked off and returned to the 42. Walls then hit Brewster at the 30 and Esposito at the goal line for another score. Mike's extra point ended the scoring for the half at 27-0.

FROM THE BOX SEAT

What bowl shall we predict for Boston Collette?...If the Sox take it on their peach-fuzzy chins from Harmon and company this weekend, get ready to read volume after volume of second guessing throughout the hot stove season... The Booster button drive kicks off Friday. Buy one for a buck and support a most noble awards scholarship program. The Boosters have been pestered in past years to run films on Monday nights of WHS football games. This week they did, and all of nineteen people squeezed into the high school cafeteria. Films of the North Andover game Saturday will be shown at next Monday's Boosters election meeting. What's Bart Starr trying to do? His nine interceptions make Babe look almost respectable. Chicken-armed Vito's inadequacy is exceeded only by that of his numb-knuckled receivers and porous offensive line. The AFL's Eastern Division must be likened to baseball's American League race this year, a tossup and a half.

Town basketball leaguers are working out Tuesday evenings at the West Intermediate School.... It's too bad Louise Day Hicks couldn't displace governor whatshis-name rather than replacing Mayor Collins...The Pop Warner Chargers toppled Randolph 22-6 on Sunday. Again it was Mark Jepson, Ray Noel, and Mike Landers moving the offense for this exceptionally well-drilled team. Defensively, Pul Ritchie and Dave O'Rourke spent as much time in the visitors' backfield as the Randolph quarterback...The boys also won a practice game at Wayland Friday night using the second and third units most of the way...The Chargers meet Wakefield on the road Sunday afternoon...A couple of Pop Warner grads, Dick Gillis and Mike Esposito, didn't exactly disgrace themselves last Saturday against Andover.

WHS had its first cross country meet of the year at North Andover Wednesday. Do the Buffalo Bills miss Billy Shaw?...Hunting season is upon us so admire the foliage from your car and stay out of the woods...High School field hockey is underway with soccer starting next week. Carl Backman Jr. has the Jaycees and the Skating Club members shaping up the Chestnut Street rink, lights and all...How can it be that mild-mannered coaches like Joe Gilligan can get results from high school players without ever losing his composure? It certainly can't be done in football, can it? If you visit a W.H.S. gridiron workout you will witness constant raging and screaming tirades of dissatisfied coaches. And you'll see coaches slapping and pushing players about, grasping facemasks to violently shake heads into sensibility, and even slugging slow learners or inconsistent performers. It MUST be done this way. These players cannot be instructed in a conversational tone. They must be chastised to the point of humiliation and even bullied on occasion. High school footballers must definitely be of subnormal intelligence or else why do these coaches carry on so? Coaches like Joe Gilligan couldn't possibly get by in football...or could they, sports fans?

Planning Board

Cosmo Caterino, owner of the Wilmington Development Co., was a visitor at the Wilmington Planning Board Tuesday night, along with Town Manager Sterling Morris.

Caterino told the board that he had just about completed a $300 thousand expansion of the Photon property, and that he is about to start construction of an office building near the end of Waltham Street, to be occupied by Avco.

He had used up all the 19 acres he has which is zoned for industry. He was now seeking to rezone the land between Waltham Street and Concord Street, along the railroad. He is planning to put in a sixty foot wide street, an extension of Waltham Street, to exit on Concord Street at a point that will be fairly close to the railroad. The street would be constructed, he said, under the provisions of the Subdivision Control Law, so that the Planning Board would have full control.

Caterino told the board that there is a demand for the type of buildings that houses Research and Development, in industry, and this was the type of building he intended to erect. There would be only one exit to Concord Street he said, and the greater part of the land along that street would be devoted to green lawn.

He told the board that he hopes to submit an article for rezoning to the next Town Meeting.

Other business

The greater part of the first hour and a half of the meeting was taken up with discussion of real estate problems, with Wilmington residents.

Two residents of Dell Drive were present at the early part of the meeting, discussing their street. They described an area of the street in front of one of the homes as being unfinished, and said that the condition had lasted a long time.

Half a dozen interested residents of Hanson Road and vicinity were present for a much longer discussion. Chairman Gillis told them that the map of the work to be done had not been mailed to the developer in time, so that he was not in a position to act. The residents were much concerned lest the work not be done before winter sets in.

After the various residents had left the board voted to send a letter to the developer of Dell Drive, asking that he be present at the next meeting at 8:30 pm.

The board discussed a long letter from Prof. Charles Elliot of Harvard, relative to the planning work that is being done for the board.

Among the items in the letter was a report on the Official Map which, the letter said, would be completed by October 17th. Elliot said he hoped to be able to come out for a discussion.

He also reminded the board that his contract would expire on Oct. second. The board decided informally that it would like to renew his contract. Chairman Gillis, speaking of Elliot, said that 'He is the best man (planner) that we have had yet. He tells you what should be done, and then he goes ahead and does things. I think we should consider extending his contract.'

The Planning Board voted to release all the remaining lots of land on Roberts Road, as it is now an accepted street, and is no longer under the jurisdiction of the board. A bank book, with $8,000, belonging to the developer and held in escrow, will be returned to him.

Among the items discussed by the board were street signs. Gillis told the board that there was a need for a survey, to find out how many of the signs put up a half dozen years ago had the names of the streets misspelled. He termed the work 'terrible, just carelessness'.

Town Engineer Arthur Harding reported that the Student Engineers from Northeastern University had completed a survey of Dell Drive, and that it seemed that at one place the road was low by a couple of feet. He had not had time to check the work, and he also wanted time to figure out the costs of completing the work on Dell Drive.

Another real estate development at Wicks Circle was in trouble, he said, because some stone bounds had been misplaced. This was serious, he said, because the land was 'land court registered' and the errors would mean unwinding a lot of red tape.

Harding expressed an opinion that many real estate developers would save themselves a lot of money in the long run by hiring competent engineers in the first place. This opinion was not because of the Wicks Drive errors, but spoken generally.

Fordham Road, in the new Tambone-Barbo Industrial Park off Concord Street has been completed right to the end, Harding told the board.

The street is 2000 feet long, and sixty feet wide for the most part, and is eighty feet wide where it meets Concord Street.

Harding said that the developers had had to wait a couple of weeks for the firm that was to put in the road surfacing. While they waited they continued with their work, so that when the black top was being installed the entire road was ready, instead of just to the new Volkswagen lot, and all the blacktop was put in at one time.
